

ABOUT THE PLAYS PLANS OF FROHMAN NEW YORK WILL SEE

Stories of the Coming Season's
Novelties in the Theatre.

ALL OF NATIVE ORIGIN EMPIRE OPENS SEPT. 13

Many of the plays selected to delight New Yorkers have already been produced; so it is possible to tell their general character in advance of their performance here. Already "Common Clay" has been described. One of the plays from which is expected to be the "House of Glass," by a young writer named Max Marcin. It will be written by John A. Harris. The heroine, who is the dominating figure in the play, marries a thief who has represented himself to her as her brother. The girl refuses to testify on her own behalf at the trial that her disgrace may not become known and both are condemned to imprisonment for three years. The woman serves half her time and is released on parole.

She breaks her parole, leaves New York for the West and marries the man who employed her as his stenographer. He is by way of being a power in the railroad world and is called to New York to occupy an important post there. His wife goes with him. He is a strict disciplinarian, especially noted for his firmness against all who have been guilty of any dishonesty and believes that criminals have no right to be allowed to return to society. He is determined to prosecute a boy who has been stealing money from the road. The detective who is at work on the case recognizes in his wife the convict who has broken her parole. Her conduct betrays to her husband what has happened. The governor of the State has intervened on the boy's behalf and been refused. Now the husband however consents to discontinue all prosecution of the boy if the governor will pardon his wife. George Colman has been much interested in the success of the play.

Irvin Cobb had the assistance of Bayard Veiller in preparing for the stage "Back Home," which Selwyn Selwyn will produce. It tells the story of a young magazine writer sent to a Southern town to investigate the conditions of child labor there. This young man becomes engaged to a girl of the village and kills the town bully in defense of a child. His friend, a local judge, saves the writer from the mob and determines that he shall have a fair trial. So he selects a jury made up altogether of old Confederate soldiers, persuades them that the young man on trial had a grandfather who fought at Gettysburg, and finally obtains his acquittal in that way. Thomas Wise and Willis Sweatman have the leading roles.

Whether or not David Belasco will give "The Girl" at the opening of the season has not been settled. George Scarborough wrote the play, which has only one woman character. This is the daughter of a negro, who is sent to a small town. This girl falls in love with a candidate for the ministry, who is the usual sheep in wolf's clothing. He promises to marry her, she falls a victim to his plans. Her father is enraged when he discovers what has happened and determines to find out the cause of his daughter's misadventure.

The girl goes to the house of a minister to seek advice. There she is followed by her father, who judges from the secrecy in which she finds him that it is this clergyman who has seduced her. He demands that she return to him, and she, in a fit of rage, tells him that she has been seduced by a young man who is now in the hands of the law. He promises to save her from her father's anger. He promises that she shall have a divorce later. Her father, who is now a while only to find that the girl, now a wife, will have nothing to do with him.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"The Mystic Shrine," in a lighter vein, will be offered. The farce is by Avery Hopwood. The title refers to some place where a young man has grown weary of too much of his society. There is a young couple in the play, of which the following is the story of an amiable "Bible Belt" in the slow and good that his wife becomes tired of him, and that a divorce, saying she wants a new husband, she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road. He tells her to hit the road, and she tells him to hit the road.

"Here's one for you, John."

ELOPERS RETURN TO SPRING LAKE BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Sullivan Create Sensation on Arrival at Hotel.

SPRING LAKE BEACH, N. J., July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Sullivan last night created a sensation nearly as great as when they eloped a few weeks ago by appearing in the ballroom of the New Essex and Sussex Hotel without having informed any of their friends of their return. Before her that they were to arrive. Before her that they were to arrive. Before her that they were to arrive.

The bride was reported at the time of the elopement to have been disowned by her parents and tonight Mrs. Lynch declined to say anything relative to her daughter's return. Later it was learned that there had been no reconciliation. Raoul Ladero, brother of the late President of Mexico, entertained a large dinner party at the Essex and Sussex last evening. Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison and Mrs. Garrison were guests of honor. Also present were Mrs. E. Thiele and Miss Thiele in the colonial dining room of the Essex and Sussex, others entertaining there were Mrs. Peter Gibson, Mrs. E. H. Michelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrington Sichel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Naiswald.

Lieut. Paul Strauss of the Hungarian army, who is a guest at the Essex and Sussex, gave a luncheon yesterday, which put in at the pier this morning. A heavy sea was running and a strong undertow made return progress slow. Miss Chase's feet established a new mark for long distance swims at the pier yesterday, exceeding that made by her sister, Miss Marjorie Chase, three years ago. Bathes today included Miss Antoinette Bloodgood, Mrs. John Corbin, H. Brevoort Kane, Miss Lisa Norris, Miss Helen Chase, Thomas Conroy, L. Pomroy Graves, the Misses Capet, Frank and Mrs. Irving H. Chase, Capt. Senor N. Kellough and M. Roberto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome N. Bonaparte entertained at luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Newton Gulick of Washington, Harry Hallows of Philadelphia and Miss Theresia Kohn of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Jordan and Preston Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bradley and Paul Cassatt of Newport were among those to lunch at the Casino. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer of Philadelphia put in at the pier today in the steam yacht Fareeda and anchored off the Mathewson, joining later Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pell, with whom they took luncheon at Wildfield Lodge. Mrs. John Corbin of New York was the guest of Mrs. August Belmont at a luncheon of six at the Casino in honor of the birthday of William C. Morrow and Charles R. Wilson. The other guests were H. Brevoort Kane, Lieutenant-Commander Cyrus Miller of the U. S. S. Wyoming and W. Herbert Caswell.

Frederick King of New York, who with Miss Lillian Hobson won the tanko contest at 24th street, will start for Rockaway tomorrow. Mrs. John T. Van Sickle of New York is the guest of Mrs. C. Manning Slater at the Revere House. A. D. Dawley and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Potter of New York registered today at the Mathewson.

Estimates Give Half to Suffrage. Many prominent artists of New York have agreed to give half the proceeds of their work to the suffrage cause. Among them are Janet Scudder, Ida Proper, Mrs. Smith-Davies, Lucia Fairchild, Olga Popoff Muller, Juliet Thompson and Enda Yandell.

IMPARTIAL

"Here's one for you, John."

SUFFRAGE CALENDAR.

Noon—Second Assembly district, talks on the East River pier. 2 P. M.—Meeting of public committee at 303 Fifth avenue. 4:30 P. M.—Nineteenth Assembly district, meeting at 316 West 108th street. 8 P. M.—Fifteenth Assembly district, street meeting at Sixty-fifth street and Amsterdam avenue. Thirty-first Assembly district, at 125th street and Seventh avenue. 8:30 P. M.—Nineteenth Assembly district, street meeting at Broadway and 110th street.

WOMAN'S POLITICAL UNION.

Noon—Seventeenth Senatorial district, meeting at Broadway and Forty-sixth street. 4 P. M.—Sixteenth Senatorial district, meeting at Third avenue and Eighty-sixth street. 8:30 P. M.—Seventeenth Senatorial district, meeting at Fourteenth street and Irving place. Twentieth Senatorial district, at 216th street and Madison avenue. Roving shop, at 111th street and Fifth avenue.

RECORD SWIM AT PIER

BY MISS LUCIA CHASE

Girl Makes Under Difficulties New Narragansett Mark for Women.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, July 25.—Miss Lucia Chase gave proof again of her swimming ability today when with several men in pursuit she swam out a mile to Capt. Emerson's yacht Margaret, which put in at the pier this morning. A heavy sea was running and a strong undertow made return progress slow. Miss Chase's feet established a new mark for long distance swims at the pier yesterday, exceeding that made by her sister, Miss Marjorie Chase, three years ago.

Bathes today included Miss Antoinette Bloodgood, Mrs. John Corbin, H. Brevoort Kane, Miss Lisa Norris, Miss Helen Chase, Thomas Conroy, L. Pomroy Graves, the Misses Capet, Frank and Mrs. Irving H. Chase, Capt. Senor N. Kellough and M. Roberto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome N. Bonaparte entertained at luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Newton Gulick of Washington, Harry Hallows of Philadelphia and Miss Theresia Kohn of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Jordan and Preston Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bradley and Paul Cassatt of Newport were among those to lunch at the Casino.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer of Philadelphia put in at the pier today in the steam yacht Fareeda and anchored off the Mathewson, joining later Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pell, with whom they took luncheon at Wildfield Lodge. Mrs. John Corbin of New York was the guest of Mrs. August Belmont at a luncheon of six at the Casino in honor of the birthday of William C. Morrow and Charles R. Wilson.

Estimates Give Half to Suffrage. Many prominent artists of New York have agreed to give half the proceeds of their work to the suffrage cause. Among them are Janet Scudder, Ida Proper, Mrs. Smith-Davies, Lucia Fairchild, Olga Popoff Muller, Juliet Thompson and Enda Yandell.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AT SOUTHAMPTON

Summer Colony Flocks to Bathing Beach After Attending Morning Service.

LARGE CROWD ON LINKS

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 25.—After attending service this morning at St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea, at which the Very Rev. William R. Grosvenor preached, the members of the summer colony as usual flocked to the bathing beach to spend the noon hour. In the afternoon the centre of attraction was the National Golf Club, where several luncheons were given and a record crowd of golfers was on the links.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Aldrich's schooner yacht Margaret is anchored off the clubhouse, having just returned from Newport. They brought with them as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Preston P. Satterwhite, who will spend several days here. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich gave a large luncheon for them at Hoplands on Friday.

Other yachts at anchor off the National club are P. P. Perkins's Mohican, C. Leonard Blair's Duet and George Baker's yacht, Col. R. M. Thompson's houseboat, the Everglades, is also anchored off the club, having just returned from a short cruise.

The evening service of the First Presbyterian Church, the oldest church on Long Island, of which the Rev. George Jeffrey Russell is pastor, was held in the Garden Theatre. It was a decided innovation for the hundreds of churchgoers of all denominations who attended the open air service. William Wheeler of New York was the tenor soloist.

Dr. and Mrs. Preston Satterwhite were entertained at luncheon yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Page. Mrs. William Mortimer Grinnell gave a large dinner last night at her home on Halsey's avenue, where she was the guest of Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, Mrs. William P. Douglas and Mrs. Alexander H. Tappan.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Patterson are at Plattsburg, N. Y., visiting with their son, who is spending several weeks at the military training camp. They will return to Southampton the early part of the week. Mrs. Bradley Martin, Jr., has returned to New York after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phipps, at the Delancey Nicollet cottage.

Mrs. Henry H. Rogers is entertaining for the week end Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Edgar of Tuxedo and Mr. and Mrs. George R. D. Schieffelin are visiting with Mr. Schieffelin's sister, Mrs. Henry H. Trevor.

Miss Aubrey N. Osborne arrived at the Irving for a two weeks stay. Mrs. Steven S. Sands with her family, also accompanied by Mr. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was visiting Mrs. Sands at the Irving, has returned to New York.

The purchase of Manchester with Miss Mabel May were among the guests at luncheon at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Babcock are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Henry Rogers Winthrop, at Edgewater, their summer home on the dunes.

THE CASINO TO OPEN.

The Shuberts Will Give a Comic Opera There. The Shuberts announced yesterday that the Casino Theatre would open a week from tonight with a new comic opera to be called "The Blue Paradise." The operetta will be produced on Friday and Saturday at Long Branch.

In the cast of the new piece are Cecil Logan, Frances G. Van der Horst, Miss Mabel May, Hattie Burke, Ted Lorraine, Teddy Webb and Robert Pitkin. No details concerning the authorship are divulged, as the Shuberts are anxious to which is applied to the work.

TOURISTS BY AUTOMOBILE.

LEXINGTON, July 25.—Motor arrivals from New York at the Hotel Lexington today included Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Cooke, Miss Katherine Cooke, Carlton P. Cooke, John Rochester (Frat), Marquis and Marquise de la Fite, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Murray, Miss Murray (Packard), Mrs. H. D. Fletcher and party (Pierce-Arrows), Mrs. H. C. Crane, Plainfield Stevens, Miss Louise Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Butterworth, Philadelphia (Pierce), Miss Louise Butterworth, James Butterworth, Mrs. E. J. Butlerworth, Miss Gillian, Philadelphia (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Squier, New York (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crane, Dallas (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Colt, Pittsfield (Pierce).

MANCHESTER, Vt., July 25.—Arrivals by automobile at the Epiphany House include V. C. Lozier, Providence (Simplex), Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gould (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Edwards, Miss Betty Edwards, F. L. Hodge, Dallas (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Clark, New York (Pierce), Miss Louise Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Butterworth, Philadelphia (Pierce), Miss Louise Butterworth, James Butterworth, Mrs. E. J. Butlerworth, Miss Gillian, Philadelphia (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Squier, New York (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crane, Dallas (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Colt, Pittsfield (Pierce).

WATERBURY, July 25.—Automobile arrivals from New York at the Hotel Elton today included Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McArthur (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hutz (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. May, New York (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. C. Seba (Packard), Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Simplex, Charles Pollock (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fitzpatrick (Buick), Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gould (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Edwards, Miss Betty Edwards, F. L. Hodge, Dallas (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Clark, New York (Pierce), Miss Louise Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Butterworth, Philadelphia (Pierce), Miss Louise Butterworth, James Butterworth, Mrs. E. J. Butlerworth, Miss Gillian, Philadelphia (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Squier, New York (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crane, Dallas (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Colt, Pittsfield (Pierce).

NEW LENOX PASTOR GREETED. LENOX, July 25.—The Rev. William Lawrence Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McArthur (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hutz (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. May, New York (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. C. Seba (Packard), Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Simplex, Charles Pollock (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fitzpatrick (Buick), Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gould (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Edwards, Miss Betty Edwards, F. L. Hodge, Dallas (Cadillac), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Clark, New York (Pierce), Miss Louise Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Butterworth, Philadelphia (Pierce), Miss Louise Butterworth, James Butterworth, Mrs. E. J. Butlerworth, Miss Gillian, Philadelphia (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Squier, New York (Lozier), Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crane, Dallas (Pierce), Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Colt, Pittsfield (Pierce).

NEWARK, N. J., July 25.—Flavel W. Sullivan, for years secretary of the Newark Fire Department and at one time a street commissioner of this city, died yesterday at his home, 1362 Seventy-ninth street, Brooklyn. He was born in Eight, Ill., and was educated at Union and Onondaga, N. Y.

Mr. Tillotson came to New York three years ago. Previous to that time he was with the World. He also ran a business office of his own in Brooklyn for several years. The deceased is survived by his widow, Phillana Barclay Tillotson, who was well known as a trained nurse before her marriage, and his father, William Irving Tillotson, who is a prominent contractor at Niles, Mich. He is also survived by two children of a former marriage, Harry Tillotson, of New York, and Miss Frances Tillotson of Omaha, N. Y.

Flavel W. Sullivan. NEWARK, N. J., July 25.—Flavel W. Sullivan, for years secretary of the Newark Fire Department and at one time a street commissioner of this city, died yesterday at his home, 1362 Seventy-ninth street, Brooklyn. He was born in Eight, Ill., and was educated at Union and Onondaga, N. Y.

Mr. Tillotson came to New York three years ago. Previous to that time he was with the World. He also ran a business office of his own in Brooklyn for several years. The deceased is survived by his widow, Phillana Barclay Tillotson, who was well known as a trained nurse before her marriage, and his father, William Irving Tillotson, who is a prominent contractor at Niles, Mich. He is also survived by two children of a former marriage, Harry Tillotson, of New York, and Miss Frances Tillotson of Omaha, N. Y.

NEWARK, N. J., July 25.—Flavel W. Sullivan, for years secretary of the Newark Fire Department and at one time a street commissioner of this city, died yesterday at his home, 1362 Seventy-ninth street, Brooklyn. He was born in Eight, Ill., and was educated at Union and Onondaga, N. Y.

Mr. Tillotson came to New York three years ago. Previous to that time he was with the World. He also ran a business office of his own in Brooklyn for several years. The deceased is survived by his widow, Phillana Barclay Tillotson, who was well known as a trained nurse before her marriage, and his father, William Irving Tillotson, who is a prominent contractor at Niles, Mich. He is also survived by two children of a former marriage, Harry Tillotson, of New York, and Miss Frances Tillotson of Omaha, N. Y.

NEWARK, N. J., July 25.—Flavel W. Sullivan, for years secretary of the Newark Fire Department and at one time a street commissioner of this city, died yesterday at his home, 1362 Seventy-ninth street, Brooklyn. He was born in Eight, Ill., and was educated at Union and Onondaga, N. Y.

Mr. Tillotson came to New York three years ago. Previous to that time he was with the World. He also ran a business office of his own in Brooklyn for several years. The deceased is survived by his widow, Phillana Barclay Tillotson, who was well known as a trained nurse before her marriage, and his father, William Irving Tillotson, who is a prominent contractor at Niles, Mich. He is also survived by two children of a former marriage, Harry Tillotson, of New York, and Miss Frances Tillotson of Omaha, N. Y.

Brooks Brothers
CLOTHING
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

Messrs. BROOKS BROTHERS beg leave to announce that they will remove to their new building at MADISON AVENUE & FORTY-FOURTH STREET on the second day of August.

FATHER FLYNN CELEBRATES.

Has Been Pastor of Mount Vernon Church for 25 Years.

MOUNT VERNON, July 25.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. Edward J. Flynn at the Church of the Sacred Heart was celebrated today. Father Flynn was assisted by the Rev. John Dooley of the Roman Catholic Church of Corpus Christi of New York and the Rev. John Carr of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Williamsbridge, of which Father Flynn was the pastor before he came here. The service was held in the church. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brann of St. Agnes's Church of New York city.

CARL ROSENFELD.

Well Known as Theatre Manager Here—Died in Berlin.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

Carl Rosenfeld, who died in Berlin last week at the age of 67, was at one time a well known theatre manager in this city. With his two brothers he came to this country in the early '80s and conducted the Thalia Theatre as a German playhouse. They were also the managers of the Lilliputians, a company of dwarfs who were highly popular for a term of years. After a year in the Bowery the managers leased the Fifth Avenue Theatre, which they managed until the death of the Rosenfelds. Eleonora Duse played her memorable first engagement in this country.

NEWPORT FETE NETS $9,000.

Proceeds of Mrs. Oelrichs's Fashion Show Above Expectations.

</